

'Even' Exercise 1

Change the sentences so that they include 'even'. You need to take out the part in italics.

For example: She hates mushrooms. Despite what I just said, she ate a whole plate of them yesterday.  $\rightarrow$  She hates mushrooms. Even so, she ate a whole plate of them yesterday.

1.	He hates dogs. Despite what I just said, he has two!
2.	If surprisingly Lucy came to the party, John still wouldn't be happy.
3.	He doesn't drink tea, despite the fact that he is English.
4.	If surprisingly Kate fails the exam, she will still go to university.
5.	New York City is surprisingly bigger than London.
6.	She eats very healthily. Despite what I just said , she still gets ill a lot.
7.	He wasn't wearing a coat, despite the fact that it was really cold.
8.	James is surprisingly taller than his brother.
9.	They missed the train despite the fact that they left very early.

1

10.	If surprisingly I had plenty of money, I wouldn't buy a Porsche.
11.	If surprisingly the weather was horrible, we would still go to the park.
12.	He has a good job. Despite what I just said , he can't afford to live in Tokyo.
13.	David is surprisingly older than me.
14.	She didn't have lunch despite the fact that she was hungry.
15.	Lucy wouldn't take that job surprisingly if it paid really well.
16.	I love London. Despite what I just said, I would consider moving to another city.
17.	He doesn't study much, despite the fact that the exam is very soon.
18.	She doesn't eat sugar, despite the fact that she loves sweets.
19.	Scotland is surprisingly darker than England in the winter.
20.	He wouldn't be happy if surprisingly he had everything he wanted.

Answers

- 1. He hates dogs. Even so, he has two!
- 2. Even if Lucy came to the party, John still wouldn't be happy.
- 3. He doesn't drink tea, even though he is English.
- 4. Even if Kate fails the exam, she will still go to university.
- 5. New York City is even bigger than London.
- 6. She eats very healthily. Even so, she still gets ill a lot.
- 7. He wasn't wearing a coat, even though it was really cold.
- 8. James is even taller than his brother.
- 9. They missed the train, even though they left very early.
- 10. Even if I had plenty of money, I wouldn't buy a Porsche.
- 11. Even if the weather was horrible, we would still go to the park.
- 12. He has a good job. Even so, he can't afford to live in Tokyo.
- 13. David is even older than me.
- 14. She didn't have lunch, even though she was hungry.
- 15. Lucy wouldn't take that job even if it paid really well.
- 16. I love London. Even so, I would consider moving to another city.
- 17. He doesn't study much, even though the exam is very soon.
- 18. She doesn't eat sugar, even though she loves sweets.
- 19. Scotland is even darker than England in the winter.
- 20. He wouldn't be happy even if he had everything he wanted.